

Grundahl, JG Development earn remodeling association awards

The Madison Chapter of the National Association of the Remodeling Industry (NARI) has named JG Development, Inc., a local design-materials-build firm, the winner in the Residential Kitchen $80,001 to under $120,000 category and Honorable Mention in the Residential Interior over $120,000 category of the 2011 Contractor of the Year (CotY) annual awards competition.

In addition, Jeff Grundahl, JG Development president, and Jesse Schlingen, JG Development director of construction, are recipients of 2011 NARI of Madison Achievement Awards.

Grundahl was the recipient of the Leadership Award, which honors an individual who has shown exceptional leadership, devotion, dedication and accomplishments on behalf of NARI at a local level. This award is presented to a NARI member, either past or present, for meritorious service to NARI and the remodeling industry.

Nominated by JG Development, Schlingen was named Employee of the Year, an award recognizing an employee whose talent, dedication, enthusiasm and teamwork make a NARI member company's business prosper.

Judging for local awards took place at the Association's chapter headquarters in late October. An impartial panel of judges who are experts within the industry and associated fields, selected winners based on each entrant's nomination and credentials. Awards were handed out at the 2011 Celebrating Excellence Awards Evening in Madison on Friday, Nov 11.

The Contractor of the Year awards recognize contractors for outstanding projects completed during the past year. The program benefits potential customers by identifying contractors with award winning credentials.